The Leaders Have Tended to Matter More

Market leadership has tended to concentrate. Over time, a small group of companies have often driven a disproportionate share of growth and returns.

Too Broad, Too Narrow, Or Just Right? Where Does Your Strategy Fall on the Spectrum?

From a single stock to a broad market portfolio, every investment approach involves trade-offs. Some investors prioritize conviction. Others prioritize diversification. Top 10 ETFs offer a middle ground—providing focused exposure to multiple potential market leaders within a single portfolio.

HIGHER CONVICTION

ONE STOCK

- Highest convictions
- Single-company exposure
- Highest company risk
- One outcome

TOP 10 ETF

- Focused diversification
- Multiple potential drivers
- Moderate concentration risk
- Multiple opportunity paths

BROAD MARKET

- Broad diversification
- Market-wide exposure
- Lower concentration risk
- Many outcomes

A Focused Approach May Offer a Middle Ground.

A portfolio of leading companies may provide meaningful exposure to market leaders while reducing reliance on any single stock.

Carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses before investing. This and other information can be found in the Fund's statutory and summary prospectuses, which may be obtained at AmplifyETFs.com. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

There can be no assurance that a Fund will achieve its investment objective. ETF shares are bought and sold at market price and may trade at a premium or discount to NAV. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. The Funds are non-diversified, invest in a limited number of issuers, and may be more volatile than diversified funds.

Because the Funds concentrate in specific sectors, Investing involves risk, including possible loss of themes, or industries, they may be more sensitive Less dilution from hundreds of peripheral holdings Designed for markets where leadership narrows to market, economic, regulatory, and company specific risks. Investments in equity securities are subject to market risk, and thematic strategies may be affected by changes in technology, competition, innovation, and investor sentiment.
